

"My visit to the Teachers in the Parks program was a real eye-opener. I observed students enthusiastically improving their math and reading skills through fun, hands-on activities. It was more like summer camp than a classroom, and the children were thriving. T.I.P.S. is an educational program that really works, and more students should have the opportunity to participate."

Parent Testimonials:

"Normally, we have to pry our kids out of bed to go to school... not with Teachers in the Parks. The combination of being outdoors, being with friends in an informal classroom, and creating an interactive curriculum provides the perfect recipe for capturing the attention of the kids"

-- Marcy and Joe Strauss - Exeter Parents

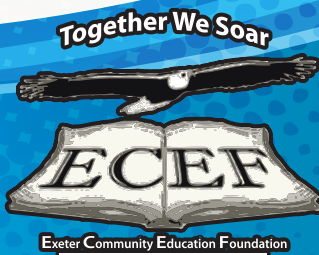

"... it took only one session for her to LOVE this program! She couldn't wait to go back the next day. My daughter is more confident in math this year because of the practice she had with Mr. Hathaway and Teachers in the Parks"

-- Diane Keck - Exeter Mother

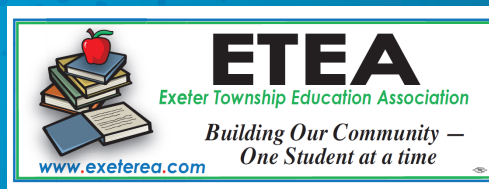

"Our son regained his enthusiasm for math this summer at T.I.P.S. Fun projects, like measuring a skyscraper's length horizontally on the ground taught him math skills, team work with his friends, and how to apply strategies."

-- Michele Weller - Exeter Mother
